Editorial

Our College have come a long way since its inception in 1988. What we dare not even dream has finally become a reality. For some, it may be one small step but for us it's a giant leap indeed. After years of planning we have finally realised our dream of a Peer Reviewed Inter Disciplinary Journal of our own.

This undertaking would not have been possible without the cooperation of the faculty as a whole. With the establishment of the College IQAC, many new scenarios have been introduced, enhancing quality education as well as research minded outlook. Publications like the Annual College Magazine, Silver Jubilee Souvenir, UGC Seminar Proceedings also speeded and contributed to the fruition of this Journal.

The Research & Innovation Committee is greatly indebted to all contributors who took time to be a part of this historic venture. The first edition itself reminds one of Samuel Johnson's description of Shakespeares' work as a 'forest' wherein all types of riches are to be found. The American modern gun culture suddenly seems more relevant in the analysis of violence in the works of Joyce Carol Oates. A close look into the Mizo culture and society from different perspectives such as feminism, gender gaps in politics, female identities, colonial ethnography, NGO's and the role of the church adds to the riches of this edition. Topics such as POCSO Act, Human Rights and Diaspora consciousness will serve as an eye opener and the Editorial Board hopes that the contents of this journal may serve as a catalyst for many new outlook and research topics.
