

ONLINE LECTURE ON POPULAR CULTURE: INTRODUCTORY PERSPECTIVES

The Department conducted an online lecture on the theme of Popular Culture: Introductory Perspectives on 22nd July 2022. The resource person for the lecture was Dr. Cherrie L.Chhangte, who is presently residing in Illinois, United States. A Fulbrighter from Stanford University, California, she has worked intensively in culture and folk studies and creative writings. 45 people including students, faculty member the college and students as well as teacher from various colleges attended this online lecture.

Her lecture explored the complex world of 'popular' and the inter-relationship with culture. The speaker re-evaluated how culture comes into existence and how it makes spaces for the 'popular'. She explained how mass media plays an important role and how this shapes our everyday lives. The lecture was well received by the students as well as the teachers.
